WWI & WWII Commonwealth War Graves Listing

WELCOME TO PROSPECT CEMETERY

Prospect Cemetery is the final resting place for over 5,300 soldiers, sailors, airmen and merchant navy of the Canadian and Allied forces.

PROSPECT CEMETERY VETERANS' SECTION

The veterans' section is a 5-acre oval plot dedicated to Canadian and Allied veterans and their spouses. It features the "Cross of Sacrifice," a cruciform by distinguished British architect Sir Reginald Blomfield, which was officially sanctioned by the Imperial War Graves Commission. A similar memorial can be found in cemeteries of the Commonwealth War Graves Commission around the world. Capt. James Henderson of the Royal Army Medical Corps became the section's first interment in July 1917.

Make sure to visit the memorial wall on the west side of the section, which features 11 bronze plaques that tell stories of some of Canada's contributions to the war.

THE COMMONWEALTH WAR GRAVES COMMISSION

With information taken from The Commonwealth War Graves Commission (CWGC), this brochure honours the 399 fallen during WWI and the 248 who also made the ultimate sacrifice during WWII. Together there are 647 soldiers, sailors and airmen listed here.

The CWGC honours the 1.7 million men and women of the Commonwealth forces who died in the First and Second World Wars, and ensures they will never be forgotten.

SUNRISE CEREMONY - REMEMBRANCE DAY

Each year since 1928, the Royal Canadian Legion's Earlscourt Branch 65 has held a sunrise service on Remembrance Day in the Veterans' Section at 8 a.m. After 90 years of dedicated service, this responsibly has been passed to the Royal Canadian Legion's Maple Leaf-Swansea Branch 266/46 who will ensure this important commemoration continues.

WHO DOES THE COMMONWEALTH WAR GRAVES COMMISSION (CWGC) COMMEMORATE?

The CWGC Commemorations team ensures that CWGC commemorates all Commonwealth war casualties. Not everyone who died during the two world wars is formally designated a war casualty. The intention was to ensure that everyone who had died during the official dates of the conflict and as a result of their war service would be formally commemorated. To achieve this Commonwealth military and auxiliary organisations set individual criteria to determine which of their servicemen and women qualified. Additional rules were introduced for Commonwealth civilians killed during the Second World War.

Individuals may not have been commemorated for various reasons. Many people died during the war years but in circumstances which mean they don't meet the relevant criteria. Others were missed from a key record due to an administrative error. Often neither the military authorities nor the Commission were informed of the death of former servicemen and women who died after they were discharged. Where evidence confirms that the circumstances of their death meet the requirements set out in the Royal Charter, the CWGC will arrange for them to be commemorated.
